AUSTRALIAN DECIMAL CURRENCY

DOLLAR ($) / CENT (c) SYSTEM

On 14th February, 1966, under the Currency Act 1965, a dollar/cent decimal currency system, with one dollar equal to 100 cents, was introduced in Australia.

The relationship between pounds, shillings and pence, and dollars and cents as prescribed in the Act, is as follows:—

1 pound = 2 dollars
1 shilling = 10 cents
1 penny = $\frac{5}{8}$ ths of a cent

In this issue of the Australian Capital Territory Statistical Summary monetary amounts have been converted to the equivalent amounts in the new system.

PREFACE

This is the third issue of this publication, which assembles in consolidated form the statistics of the Australian Capital Territory available in this Bureau. The object of the Summary is to present as comprehensive a survey as possible without unduly increasing the size of the publication, a particular feature being a long-term table, wherever practicable, in each of the various statistical fields.

The contents of the previous issue have been advanced wherever possible, and new matter obtained from the Population Count, 1st July, 1965, has been included. New tables have been included showing: added particulars for births, deaths, marriages and divorces and corresponding rates; ages of the population of Canberra at the last census and for subsequent population counts; industrial disputes; the Consumer Price Index; value of primary production; quarries; new houses completed, by ownership; contract-built new private houses, by value of house and material of outer walls; grades of school pupils; health and other community services; and Commonwealth maternity allowances. The section on Building (Tables 64 to 71) has been revised and the tables have been set out in new format. A new classification has been used to show Australian Capital Territory receipts and outlay (Table 92). Some sub-division and expansion of tables has also been made in respect of retail sales (Tables 72 and 73), schools (Table 94), and hospital services (Tables 99 and 100).

(a) The category “Not at work” includes those who stated that they were usually engaged in work, but were not actively seeking a job at the time of the Census by reason of sickness, accident, etc., or because they were on strike, changing jobs or temporarily laid off, etc. It includes also persons able and willing to work but unable to secure employment, as well as casual and seasonal workers not actually in a job at the time of the Census. The numbers shown as “Not at work”, therefore, do not represent the number of unemployed available for work and unable to obtain it.

Employed Persons

The questions used in the Householder's Schedule for this Population Count to determine the number of persons in the work force were framed to conform as far as practicable with the recommendations of the Eighth International Conference of Labour Statisticians held in Geneva in 1954. They thus differ in form and in resultant data from the questions used and in data derived in the 1961 Australian Census of Population as shown in Tables 16 and 17. For the Population Count the basic question was—

“Did the person do any work at all (other than unpaid housework) during last week (that is, from Monday, 24th June, to Sunday, 30th June, 1963) for payment, profit or keep or as an unpaid helper in a family business or farm. Answer either yes or no.”

For persons for whom the answer was “yes” a further question asked—

“State the usual number of hours worked per week”.

Thus the statistics pertaining to the work force presented in Tables 18 and 19 embrace all persons who did any work at all (other than unpaid housework) during the week 24th to 30th June, 1963, for payment, profit or keep or as an unpaid helper in a family business or farm whether full-time, part-time, for less than usual hours, casually, etc.

Unemployed Persons

Unemployed persons are all those who, during the week 24th to 30th June, 1963, did no work at all and—

- (a) did not have a job or business but looked for work; or
- (b) were temporarily laid off without pay for the whole week.

(a) In respect of which a separate Householder's Schedule was received. (b) Prior to 1961 single self-contained dwellings attached to or situated above offices, shops, etc., were classified as private houses irrespective of the description stated in the Householder's Schedule. In 1961 such dwellings, if described as self-contained flats, were classified as flats. (c) Includes "caretakers' quarters" which in 1961 were classified as private dwellings.

NOTE

Occupied dwelling.—An occupied dwelling is any habitation occupied by a household group living together as a domestic unit, whether comprising the whole or only part of a building. The term has therefore a very wide reference and includes, in addition to houses and flats, a great variety of "dwellings" ranging from a single-roomed shack to a multi-roomed hotel or institution. Occupied dwellings are classified into "private" and "other than private" dwellings.

Private dwelling.—Private dwellings are further classified into the following four categories:—

Private house.—Private houses include houses, sheds, huts, garages, etc., used for dwelling purposes, and shared private houses for which only one Householder's Schedule was received.

Share of private house.—A share of a private house is a portion of a shared private house which is occupied separately and for which portion a separate Householder's Schedule was received.

Flat.—A flat is part of a house or other building which can be completely closed off and which has its own cooking and bathing facilities.

Other private dwelling.—These include private dwellings such as rooms, apartments, etc., which are parts of buildings but are not self-contained units.

Other than private dwelling.—These include hotels; motels; boarding houses, lodging houses and hostels; educational, religious and charitable institutions; hospitals; defence and penal establishments; police and fire stations; clubs; staff barracks and quarters, etc.

(a) Includes sheds, huts, etc.

(b) This information was furnished by occupants of dwellings at 30th June, 1961.

For a number of reasons the figures shown on this line do not agree with the number of dwellings by class recorded at the Census of 30th June, 1954, e.g., demolitions, conversion from one class of dwelling to another and errors of memory regarding date of building. Also the figures are not precisely comparable with 1954 data because of changes in classification of dwellings adopted at the 1961 Census, as indicated in Table 23.

(c) After 30th June, 1954, but year not stated.

(b) 1944 and 1949.

NOTE.—The data shown in the foregoing climatological tables were taken entirely at the Forestry and Timber Bureau station except for the following three elements.

(a) Wind—Highest gust speed (miles per hour). These records were taken at Fairbairn Aerodrome.

(b) Mean daily hours of sunshine. These averages were compiled from the three stations Westridge, Acton and Forestry and Timber Bureau as follows.

1911 to 1920—10 complete years—Westridge.

1921 to 1933—no records.

1934 to 1936—3 complete years—Acton.

1937 to 1947—6 complete years—Forestry and Timber Bureau.

1943 to 1944—incomplete.

1945 to January, 1948 inclusive—no records.

February, 1948 to 1956—8 complete years—Forestry and Timber Bureau.

Total 27 years.

(c) Extreme temperature (°Fahr.) lowest on grass. The figures shown for November and December 22.9 and 29.1 were taken at Fairbairn Aerodrome. The appropriate extremes for the Forestry and Timber Bureau are 32.2°F. on 11/36 and 6/10 and 36.0°F. on 24/28.

(a) The statistics shown are based on returns received from government authorities, contractors and owner-builders who undertake the erection of new buildings. Details obtained from government authorities and building contractors refer to all areas. Figures for houses exclude temporary dwellings, dwellings attached to other buildings, sheds, huts, etc. Each flat is counted as an individual living unit. Additions of $10,000 and over to existing buildings are included with new buildings but alterations and minor additions are excluded. The values of new buildings exclude the value of land and represent the estimated value of buildings on completion. (b) The values shown represent the estimated value of work carried out on buildings during the period. For any building the sum of these values obtained during its construction equals the value of the building on completion. Not available prior to March quarter, 1957.
